Re: John Doe, et al v. Kanakuk Ministries
Case No.: 3:11-CV-00524-G
Our File No: 00500.101

Gentlemen:

I have received [REDACTED] letter dated August 30, 2013. Although Kanakuk appreciates the response we are not in agreement. The judge's order regarding the settlement agreement is clear and states the mediation agreement includes non-disparagement and confidentiality. This is mutual and Kanakuk intends to abide by the Agreement it signed. The legal definition of non-disparagement is as follows: "an injurious statement that discredits or detracts from the reputation of another's character, property, product, or business." This is the definition Kanakuk intends to abide by pursuant to the agreement all the parties and their attorneys signed.

It is the intent of Joe White and Kanakuk to pursue all appropriate legal remedies for any breach of the settlement agreement and court order.

Very truly yours,

Deborah B. Junek
